

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

[0029] A grid array signal conducting arrangement having at least one differential grid array conductor pair and at least one non-differential grid array conductor pair, the at least one differential grid array conductor pair having portions thereof which are more closely spaced in
5 comparison to a spacing of corresponding components in the at least one non-differential grid array conductor pair.